" The Church Exists to Evangelise."
Paul VI: Evangelisation in Modern World no 14

Dear Friends,

The Parishes on Fire Conference! in St Clement of Rome, is an important initiative in the life of the local Church. Jesus Christ called his disciples to proclaim the Gospel to all creation, and told them to be his witnesses to the ends of the world, in the power of the Holy Spirit. The Church itself through Popes Paul VI, John-Paul II and Benedict XVI, has frequently called on all Catholics, both clerical and lay, to spread the gospel of salvation. We cannot deny the call, nor the need to learn new methods of reaching the people of our technological generation. In spite of all modern advances, the hearts of the people still yearn for the assurance of God's love for them, and the knowledge of Jesus' saving work through his life, death and resurrection, by which New Life is available to all. Through the outpouring of the Holy Spirit, each one is empowered to fulfill the call, to overcome diffidence and fear, and boldly proclaim Good News to all.

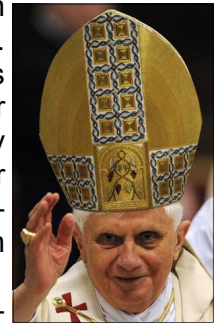
Parishes on Fire! A Hope and a Calling

Following the Synod of Bishops of Oceania, Pope John Paul II wrote that "Witness of life demands that Christ's Gospel be explicitly proclaimed as "the defence ...for the hope that is in you..." (1 Pt 3:15). Through the power of the Holy Spirit, the proclamation of the word of life calls people to faith and conversion. Christ is the foundation (cf. 1 Cor 3:11; Col 2:7) on which the Church as the community of believers is built. This telling of the truth of Jesus Christ in a public proclamation is evangelisation in the strict sense. The Church evangelises Her members through the celebration of the sacraments, particularly the Sacrament of the Eucharist, and, enlivened by this intimate union with Christ, radiates the Christian message into the world. "The test of truth,"(17) says Pope Paul VI, is whether the evangelised community evangelises others, whether it calls others into the Kingdom of God's beloved Son in the power of the Spirit."



More recently Pope Benedict XVI wrote in 2008: "The Church is missionary in herself and in each one of her members. Through the sacraments of Baptism and Confirmation, every Christian is called to bear witness and to announce the Gospel." The hope for the Church in the future lies in every Catholic taking seriously this call to share the gospel with all we meet.
